Summer Brings the Sun... and Fire

Wildfire - keeping the fires at bay

You may not be able to prevent forest fires, but you can take some measures to keep them away from your doorstep:

Don't provide the kindling. Clear leaves and twigs from gutters, eaves and porches, which can feed a fire. Remove dead vegetation from within 10 feet of your home, as well as anything flammable, such as stacks of firewood or propane tanks.

Start at the top. Replace or repair loose or missing roof shingles or tiles for the greatest defense against smoldering embers. Lubricate your lawn. A dry lawn can feed a fire; keep it well hydrated and maintained.

Fire up the grill - not your home

Planning to tap your inner grill master in the coming months? Here are a few grilling safety tips:

Don't give it fuel. Be sure to keep your grill away from your home, deck railings and overhanging branches or patio plants.

Keep it clean. Regular maintenance is important to avoid fat build-up and reduce fire risk.

Do the sniff test. If you have a gas grill, check the tank hose for leaks each year before using it. One test is to apply a light soap-and-water solution to the hose and if bubbles are released, you've got a leak. Or, if you smell gas when the grill is going, turn it off immediately.

Start right. For charcoal grills, use only charcoal starter fluid and never add it to the fire. The right finish. When you're done grilling, cool the coals completely before disposing them in a metal container.

Burning rubber - preventing car fires

Vehicle fires account for about 10 percent of all fires and on average, there are about 17 auto fires an hour. Most are caused by mechanical or electrical failures, but others are the result of collisions or overturns. The best way to prevent car fires is good maintenance. Service your vehicle regularly and if you see leaks, get them checked. Also:

Moving fuel brings risk. If you must transport fuel, be aware that it's a dangerous and volatile liquid, and if it vents into the passenger or trunk compartment, it can be ignited with the slightest spark—even from an electronic device.

Don't feed your emission system. Never park where grass or other flammables are touching the vehicle's exhaust system.

Know when you've got a problem. Signs of trouble can be cracked or loose wiring or electrical problems, oil or fluid leaks, smoke/flames or the smell of burning rubber or plastic, rapid changes in fuel or fluid level, or engine temperature.

If a fire does start in your car, pull over immediately, turn off the engine and after making sure it's safe, get out of the car. Stay at least 100 feet away from your vehicle and wait for help.

Get the right protection

Sometimes, the best maintenance, the best practices and the most careful driving can't keep us from a loss. That's why the best favor you can give yourself and your family is protection. Check with your Protection Coach to make sure your Home and/or Auto insurance is enough so that if the worst does happen, we've got you well covered.

GET TO KNOW YOUR INSURANCE AGENT

Michele Rivera

My name is Michele Rivera and I am a protection specialist here at CSIS. I have been working for CSIS in Garden Grove since June of 2014. In the short period of time, I have already gained a great amount of knowledge to be able to assist and better direct our clients. This is thanks to a team who is willing to take the extra step in helping, facilitating and meeting the needs of every individual who comes to our agency. Besides being a team member at CSIS, I am also a student at CSUF working on a degree in Sociology. I am eager to learn more and be able to assist many of you.

What is some advice you'd like to tell your clients in order for you to serve them better?

The advice I would give our clients is let us know your needs, concerns and ask questions when something is not clear.

What's your all-time favorite Book or Movie?

I do not have a favorite book nor movie. I do enjoy reading and watching anything that has to do with the history and cultures from around the world.

What is your favorite thing to do when you're not working?

When I am not working, you will catch me spending time with my family. My family is my treasure and every minute with them is valued.

Who is the greatest inspiration in your life?

My greatest inspiration in my life are my parents. They are my backbone, which is what holds me together. My father has instilled in me to reach for my dreams and not be afraid of hard work. On the other hand I have a mother who has taught me to be caring, compassionate, see the positive sides in situations and to be willing to give a lending hand along my journey.

What is something about yourself that you wish more people knew?

I love music and cars.

What are you afraid of?

I am afraid of spiders and snakes.

What is your favorite inspirational quote or mantra?

"The difference between the impossible and the possible lies in a person's determination." –Tommy Lasorda

If you had an extra hour in the day, how would you choose to spend it?

If I had that extra hour during the day, I would sit down and enjoy a drink.
